2015/3683/P	Mr M.Curties	flat 12 24 Warner Street London EC1R5EX	17/09/2015 18:49:57	OBJ	The air conditioning unit in question appears to be already installed. within this area there are already a number of similar units installed. all of which have no covers or any attenuation. there are residential building above and on two sides. these units when in use are very loud and already cause discomfort. there have been times when 1 of the companies (Purple) left their condensors running over the weekend which ran 24 hour and caused a lot of discomfort. we complained and they did correct this. however the existing units and the new unit are all un-sightly and are installed with no regard to residents. we would prefer if all of these units are housed together and are treated accoustically. although we are against these units being installed at all.
