

Application No:	Consultees Name:	Consultees Addr:	Received:	Comment:	Response:
2015/5563/T	D. Zwierzynski	Lyndhurst Gdns	21/10/2015 15:48:59	OBJ	I very strongly oppose feeling this majestic tree. In the USA, "in n 2002, the Indiana Department of Natural Resources identified this tree (Taxodium distichum) as a state protected plant with the status of Threatened". Its removal would cause huge environmental loss to the the immediate neighbourhood and Hampstead. Belsize Court must deploy sufficient resources to maintain this tree, including thinning or reducing the upper canopy - if indeed needed. This is a mature tree of a threatened species, unique in London, and every effort should be extended to preserve it. Camden Council should seek independent expert advice to examine, maintain and preserve this TPO tree for generations to come."
2015/5563/T	D. Zwierzynski	Lyndhurst Gdns	21/10/2015 15:49:15	OBJ
2015/5563/T	John Donaldson	Flat 1 20 Lyndhurst Gardens London NW3 5NR	19/10/2015 10:18:37	OBJ	Felling this tree will make a significant visual impact to the neighbouring area and seems a very drastic course of action. Surely there must be other alternatives, perhaps to trim and cut back, as the council do with the trees on the public street?
2015/5563/T	D. Zwierz	Lyndhurst Gardens	18/10/2015 14:29:19	OBJ	I very strongly oppose feeling this majestic tree. In US, "in n 2002, the Indiana Department of Natural Resources identified this tree (Taxodium distichum) as a state protected plant with the status of Threatened". Its removal would cause huge environmental loss the the immediate neighbourhood and Hampstead. Belsize Court must deploy sufficient resources to maintain this tree, including thinning or reducing the upper canopy - if indeed needed. This is a mature tree of s threatened species, unique in London, and every effort should be extended to preserve it. Camden Council should seek independent expert advice to examine, maintain and preserve this TPO tree for generations to come.
2015/5563/T	D. Zwierzynski	Lyndhurst Gdns	21/10/2015 15:49:18	OBJ	I very strongly oppose feeling this majestic tree. In the USA, "in n 2002, the Indiana Department of Natural Resources identified this tree (Taxodium distichum) as a state protected plant with the status of Threatened". Its removal would cause huge environmental loss to the the immediate neighbourhood and Hampstead. Belsize Court must deploy sufficient resources to maintain this tree, including thinning or reducing the upper canopy - if indeed needed. This is a mature tree of a threatened species, unique in London, and every effort should be extended to preserve it. Camden Council should seek independent expert advice to examine, maintain and preserve this TPO tree for generations to come."