Dear Mr Marfleet

Planning ref 2015/5540/P

Domo restaurant, 94 Camden Road:
rear one-storey ground floor extension associated with existing A3
use of premises

I strongly object to the commercial development of this back garden location by Domo restaurant on the grounds of over-development of a residential site for restaurant/catering use.

This development is expected to cause noise and cooking smells late into the night, accompanied by a general increase of traffic to the premises. It will be a significant additional disturbance to all the surrounding residential neighbours, especially the residents of Highstone Mansions which overlooks the site, who are already afflicted by the results of over-development of many of the properties in this residential location which Camden's planning and environmental health teams have failed to address.

To my knowledge, the site identified for development does not even form part of the legal site curtilage of this restaurant and has been incrementally appropriated by the restaurant owners for commercial use.

I strongly urge the planning authority therefore to reject this application and put an end to chaotic, incremental development encroaching on Camden's residential locations.

Yours sincerely,

Josephine Baker (Mrs)
