Dear Ms Litherland ,
Please find attached my objections to the latest amendment .
I am deeply concerned that these developers have not kept their word on so many areas of the vile development .
We were promised a doctors surgery - there doesn't seem to be one.
We were promised a 'square ' ,now that will be there to accommodate the restaurants .
No cars , well despite what the Camden officer said who rocked up at one of the waste of time consultations , people have cars and park them on the surrounding streets and don't bother with permits. With this devestating amount of people being dumped on our tiny area , why does Camden think they will not act the same ? Please give them the opportunity of at lease hiring a car if needs be . We have tried in the past to do so and have given up as there is not enough .Please do pander to the need of the large companies moving in saying they need more space for their delivery lorries. It has been a night mare with the traffic situation while this build has been taking place .They have never stuck to the planed traffic flow plan and virtually every time I walk past , which is 4 times most days , the road , the site workers are holding up traffic to let lorries back in . It will continue , if the site is just a few large units . Small independent retailers , need less large delivery vans . It is amazing no one has been killed .Some of the footage I have taken is scary stuff .We were also promised a few units with low rates to encourage new small retailers and some workshop units
- where are they ?
The opening times .How can Camden give a blanket opening time to buildings before you know what each individual unit is being used for ?Should this not be applied for on a unit by unit , as you become aware of what it will be used for.
This is not a town centre ,West Hampstead is not a town .It is a very residential area and late night openings are not welcome .We have to work and our kids have to go to school .
Thank you for your time and attention ,
Mila Tanya Griebel

Your comments

- ① changing the layout of the units from what a small to a few large. we were promised small units to allow start up business and existing or lost business to take up small units. we want diversity, already too many units have been promised to large companies - KEMAS, has now 2 outlets in the 'square'
- ② lost a 'zip car' spaces. very important to keep them in the area. there are not enough in the area already, we gave up as we couldn't get one, so bought a car. the people in the flats will do the same. we already have a number of people who own cars. they leave for work before 8.30 and come back after 6.30, so car pods are really important
- ③ opening times: - this part of West Hampstead is not the town centre, despite the estate agent talk. It is a quieter part of West Hampstead with many residential homes and a lot of existing jobs. opening hours for the units, with less police on the streets will become a nightmare for existing residents
