Your comments on the planning application

Dear Camden,

My flat faces the roof the old building and so is not currently overlooked. It appears that the windows of the upper floors will look directly in to the back windows of the terrace and overlook the gardens

I realise that something will have to be done with the site, but the current proposition presents many questions. The Fortess Road terrace is listed with peaceful gardens at the back. Number 44 has an extension at the back and is close to the wall of of the factory, which doesn't seem to have been taken in to account. The historical setting of the terrace would be greatly changed by the development.

The proposal for nine, three bedroom houses is surely much too dense for the space available with hardly any outdoor area. Surely some smaller, affordable flats and studio or workshop spaces would be more appropriate for this enclosed space.

Another concern is the asbestos roof, which covers a large area. There seems to be no information on how this would be safely removed.

I hope my concerns will be taken in to account. I would be happy to allow an inspection of the site from my property.

Kind regards

Joy Everley
