01 DESIGN + INTEGRATION

Original Consultants.
Electrical and Mechanical Engineer:
Max Fordham & Partners.

Maintenance responsibility.
'Planned Maintenance' under London Borough of Camden.

2D-01.01 SERVICES DESIGN.

The original services installation was daring and innovative, integrating all heating and lighting within the structure of the building.

It is fully understood that services are regularly in need of upgrading in line with up to date standards and legislation. For this reason there needs to be a methodology prepared for the upgrade of all services. The services can then be replaced or upgraded within the framework of a plan for the entire estate. This requires strict adherence to a methodology and if there is none in place for the service element you wish to change then consultation with English Heritage and London Borough of Camden will be necessary before the works are carried out.
