Dear Mr Gentet

Thank you for your email about 29 Chalk Farm Road.

I am afraid I do not quite understand what you are saying, so may I repeat some of my points and make another even clearer.

1. The Residents Association has long been familiar with this development and has been in touch with officers throughout.
2. Officers agreed some time ago that doors, other than fire doors and emergency exits, should be in Chalk Farm Road rather than Harmood Street or Hartland Road.
3. I have asked you to ensure that doors should be in Chalk Farm Road, and not in Hartland Road, which is residential.
4. A door is already in place in Hartland Road, although planning permission has not been given.

You will see from the above that I would be failing residents if I withdrew my objection. However, I seem to have taken the matter as far as I can and am passing it on to Councillor Alison Kelly, who is also familiar with the development.

Dear Patricia Thomas

Thank you for your email.

The proposal has not yet been determined although following discussions with another officer who has had previous involvement with the planning history of the site, we have reached an agreement to approved the relocation of the doors of the retail units.

This is unfortunate that the developer has gone ahead with the alterations prior to the proposal being formalised and approval granted.

However, your objection being made on behalf of a resident association, the application must now be determined at Members' Briefing level which will require a report to be written detailing my assessment of the proposal along with my recommendation for approval.

It has been pointed out that the doors on Chalk Farm Road have previously been included in a discharge of condition regarding the details of the shopfront. Your objection referring mainly to the doors on Chalk Farm Road, it somewhat has little relevance to the current proposal, though be it the relocation of all the doors of the retail unit fronting Chalk Farm Road and Hartland Road.

As such, I would enquire whether you would be willing to withdraw your objection and allow the proposal to be determined at delegated level, by this officer.

Please let me know your thoughts on the matter at your earliest convenience.

Many thanks

Dear Mr Gentet, I see that the doors which are the subject of the above planning application have already been moved. Please can you tell me whether or not the planning application (on which I commented on behalf of the Residents Association) has been decided?

Best wishes

Patricia Thomas
