Residents in neighbouring properties already suffer from the noise of a hotel; the proposals will mean a very large disruption for a long period, and ongoing noise and light pollution if the scheme were to be approved. Camden must be aware of the difficulties of people living in close proximity to places such as hotels which operate 24 hours and have continuous noise not only from visitors who are there for the night, but also from continuous noise from air conditioning and central heating. In this particular case, increased height will also mean loss of light to neighbours.
2015/7269/P	Ian McKinnell	9 Bristol House 80a Southampton Row London WC1B 4BA	01/03/2016 11:04:34	COMNOT	This building is directly outside our bedroom window.  This building will be in very close proximity to a hundred or more bedrooms in surrounding residential buildings as well as in & the hotel itself. But there is no noise assessment or any details of the plant mentioned in the plans.  There has been a long history of problems with noise from this hotel of air conditioning plant disturbing sleep. After many years of campaigning this situation has been ameliorated & is currently at an acceptable level.  I consider it vital that this development does not impact it's environment in anyway & that noise levels are kept as they currently or less & that this should be an essential condition of any permission that should be granted.
