Your comments on the planning application

I am a session musician based in London. I forcibly object to planning permission being granted for the proposed renovations to 11 Rossllyn Hill, NW3 5UL, due to the huge impact the building works would have on Air Studios, one of the most successful studio operations in the world. Many people rely on Air Studios for their employment, from those running the business on the premises to the engineers, the contractors, the assistants, the film companies, the restaurant staff, and the hundreds of musicians who work there. For the length of time that the works would be carried out Air Studios would have to close, due to the noise and vibrations created by plant equipment â both of which would render recording impossible. There is also the very real chance of enduring structural damage being caused. The main studio is one of only two in London with the capacity to hold a full symphony orchestra and record it to picture. Amongst the vast number of film scores recorded there, countless have been and continue to be for prestigious clients from Hollywood. If the studio is unavailable these clients will look elsewhere to have their film scores recorded and will not return, since there are not enough alternative venues in London or the UK in which to record. Many people's livelihoods will be at risk if the works are undertaken.
