

Hello Barry,

Thank you for your response. To answer your questions:

> The species

The tree is a Cedar. I have attached a picture for reference.

> The exact works

The works to be remove this tree and replace it with another tree that is more fitting to the property. Overall, standing at roughly 8 to 10 meters tall this tree is rather too large for our taste. We would like to replace the cedar tree with a leafy tree around 4 to 5 meters tall.

This will be part of a larger garden renovations -- clearing out small plants and replacing them with flowers, for example. Determining what trees we have in the yard will help us to determine the rest of our plans.

> The location of the tree

The tree is in the front garden, along Abbey Road.

Thanks again. Please let me know if you need any more information.
