The building works which are very close to the property has been managed appallingly. For many weeks the entire building was left entirely open to the outside environment. This meant an enormous amount of building dust was constantly being blown into our garden and into our flat. Our 4 year old daughter and my wife began at one stage to suffer from breathing difficulties with my wife asking me to get a Ventolin inhaler one day to counteract her wheezing due to the dust. In addition the dust has over time settled on the outside garden and has led to large areas of grass dying. There are now large patches of dead grass outside on our lawn. Before this, the garden looked amazing - we have a gardener regularly attend to it and I also regularly mow the lawn.an inappropriate idea In summary apart from the objections others have raised (with which I totally agree - especially I object to the intended extension into the garden -) I believe that the building works have been carried out without consideration of the immediate environment. The works have led to medical issues in my family as well as damage to the garden. Roshan Fernando
