

Do you want O2 to install
6 mobile phone
antennas
on top of Troyes House?

NO!!

- Inappropriate site

Troyes House is too low for a mobile phone base station and signals will not be far-reaching as too many buildings will obstruct them.

- Effect on adult and especially on child health.

The tower will direct high levels of electromagnetic radiation straight into the residents of Troyes House and neighbouring properties. Current independent research shows that high levels of electromagnetic radiation can have harmful effects on health, especially that of children.
