The proposed wall extending half way down my garden has no height shown but is clearly intended to be very high and act as a sun-trap. Actually taking sunlight/heat that presently reaches my garden to their benefit and my detriment. It actually is to everyone's detriment to make our rear gardens more and more like treeless prison yards. If a precedent is set presumably we will all become as selfish.. IF this proposal gets any sort of approval I trust that approval will set clear height limitations relative to the existing ground level. 2. I visited 168 about a year ago to help with some problem or other and was absolutely horrified when I went into their back garden and saw this monstrous brick wall impinging on their garden. I assumed at the time that the planning application must have slipped through because the old lady who lived there for 50 years was in hospital or had just died or something like that..Now my new neighbours at 162 are seizing on the precedent. 3. The proposal to raise the garden level will lead to increase risk of dampness/flooding in my garden
