The CGCA notes that the Council specifies that 1.8m is a minimum and in some instances, particularly areas with high volumes of pedestrian and/or vehicular traffic, a wider clearance will be required. Indeed, CPG5 6.11 states that, "The area where tables and chairs may be placed must be designated and must not interrupt the area of footway for pedestrian movement." (Also see CPG5 6.10.) Further, the "Pedestrian Comfort Guidance for London," published by the GLA, recommends total footway widths for different levels of pedestrian flow. For high-flow areas (greater than 1,200 people per hour), the recommended width is 5.3m; for active flow areas (600 to 1,200 people per hour), the recommended width is 4.2m. The proposed table and chairs are located near Holborn station on Kingsway, which is one of the busiest locations in the area. The pavement is consistently crowded with high footfall, and Holborn station frequently closes due to overcrowding. As such, the number of proposed tables and chairs is inappropriate for this location and, as proposed, they present a health and safety concern, as pedestrians will be forced to walk in the road due to the heavy volume of footfall and the obstruction that the tables and chairs create. The third chair at each tables results in the street furniture being pushed further into the public highway and creating an obstruction at this busy location. Thus, only two chairs per table should be permitted and these should be pushed flush with the shopfront. Additionally, the CGCA objects to the late opening hours. These should not extend beyond Camden's core hours.

Dear Paru,

Mohammed did send me a copy of the objection for the above application.

I have discussed this with my client and he has agreed to their request to reduce the chairs from 12 to 8. I have revised the plan accordingly (86 Kingsway G Plan - 186 001 Rev C) and enclose it with this email. Please substitute this for the previous revision.

I did not understand the point made regarding opening hours. It was the intention to apply for the maximum hours that Camden allow in this area as stated in your 'Tables and Chairs Application Guidance Note'. If this is an issue then please contact me.

Kind regards

Peter
