

From: Charles Marks [mailto:]
Sent: 07 December 2016 08:33
To: Planning
Subject: Objection to application 2016/6496/A

Please can you explain why there is no option online to file an objection to the above planning application? The email notifications about this proposal were only sent out today (7/12/2016) and the Application was only registered yesterday (6/12/2016) and the comments were only open until 28/11/2016. This is a regular occurrence on the planning portal and, is unacceptable and misleading to local residents who then have no way to object to applications. I also assume no local notices have been posted in regards to this application either.

I wish to object to the application on the grounds that it is not in keeping with the local neighbourhood which is predominantly residential and the erection of advertising hoardings should be restricted to the absolute minimum and any permission should only ever be short term if granted at all. The road that the sign is proposed for is 100% residential and permission should not be granted.

Charles Marks

Confidentiality Note: This email may contain confidential and/or private information. If you received this email in error please delete and notify sender.