Dear Mr Backer

BRE Daylight and Sunlight Study – Redevelopment of West End Lane, London NW6 1SD - Planning Application 2015/6455

I have reviewed the comments by Save West Hampstead (SWH) "Stop the Blocks!" Campaign, in their document 'Discrepancies in Reported Sunlight to Gardens'.

SWH have overlaid the BRE 2 hour sunlight on the ground contours, with the overshadowing plots, and note a slight difference between the two. I confirm that we would expect there to be a slight difference. The BRE guide allows two methods for applying the 2 hour sunlight calculation. The measurement can either be undertaken at a single point at the centre of the garden; or it can be undertaken based on a grid of points over the entire garden area. We have applied the latter method as this is the more accurate of the two methods. However, due to the grid spacing, there will still invariably be a slight difference between the 2 hour contour and the overshadowing plots. However, the difference is small and does not materially affect the results. If we were to reduce the grid spacing, the 2 hour contours would match even more closely with the overshadowing plots, thereby showing slightly less overshadowing than the current 2 hour contours. However, since the differences are small, and because the grid method is still significantly more accurate than the alternative single point method of testing, I am of the opinion that the current assessment is sufficiently accurate. Another difference between an overshadowing assessment and the 2 hour assessment is that the BRE guide states that sunlight received at an angle of less than 10 degree should be excluded from the 2 hours assessment. Sunlight received at an angle of less than 10 degrees is, however, included in the overshadowing plots. Whilst this can also contribute to a difference between the overshadowing plots and 2 hour contours, I am of the opinion that this is also unlikely to make a material difference in this instance.

As previously explained, the differences between the December and June numerical data is due to a combination of additional survey information becoming available and changes to the proposed design, which resulted in an overall reduction to the size of the scheme. Between the two reports, we also updated some of the modelling of neighbouring properties based on drawings obtained from planning records. In overall terms, there is little difference between the number of windows/gardens which surpass the BRE guidelines. However, given the refinement of the model throughout the process, the June assessment is the most accurate. We have provided a copy of our computer model to Anstey Horne who I understand are employed by Camden Council to confirm its accuracy.

SWH have requested additional shadowing images. In particular, they have requested hourly overshadowing plots. Whilst the BRE guide has no specific requirement for hourly images, I enclose the plots as requested.

I trust that the above addresses the comments by SWH. Please do not hesitate to come back to me if you have any queries.

Yours sincerely

Anthony James Fawell B.Sc. (Hons)
