

GARDEN CENTRE
GARDEN SERVICES

To whom it may concern,

My company undertakes gardening works for Mr David Haralambidis at his residential address and we have also been trying to help resolve the problems with his apple trees that are growing on his allotment in Fitzroy Park.

These apple trees are deemed to be old trees and despite selective pruning and spraying these trees still are problematic as they don't produce any fruit that can be used. All the apples either rot on the tree before they are at a stage ready to be harvested or they drop off the tree.

We have tried all we can over the last two years in order to prevent this from occurring but this problem is only getting worse. We would therefore recommend that these trees be removed completely and replaced with new apple trees.

I hope given the above clarification on the existing trees you will agree that this is the best solution.

Yours faithfully,
