Dear Ms Phillips,

Having objected initially, I am writing today to comment on the revised plans for 115 Frogna1. Sadly, there seems to be little significant difference to the original plans and whilst I understand that houses need to be practical, I do feel strongly that they also need to fit into their surroundings. I am aware that the present house has no real historical value but it's classical form fits beautifully with the neighbours and the rest of Frogna1 & Hampstead. The position of 115 makes it highly visible & it would be a terrible shame to have something there that is so completely out of character. I personally like modern architecture & admire many of the modern houses that have sprung around the area, but they rarely, if ever, occupy such a prominent & solitary position. I really believe it would be an eyesore in a fiercely protected & hugely historical area.

Yours sincerely,
Maja Herman
