

MINOR AMENDMENTS TO FENESTRATION

It proved impossible to find a manufacturer for the previous design of windows where the entire window was a single opening light. It was also advised that such a window would not achieve the required ventilation in the bedrooms and would not meet the U-Value requirements.

As such minor amendments to the fenestration are proposed to achieve both the ventilation requirement and thermal performance.

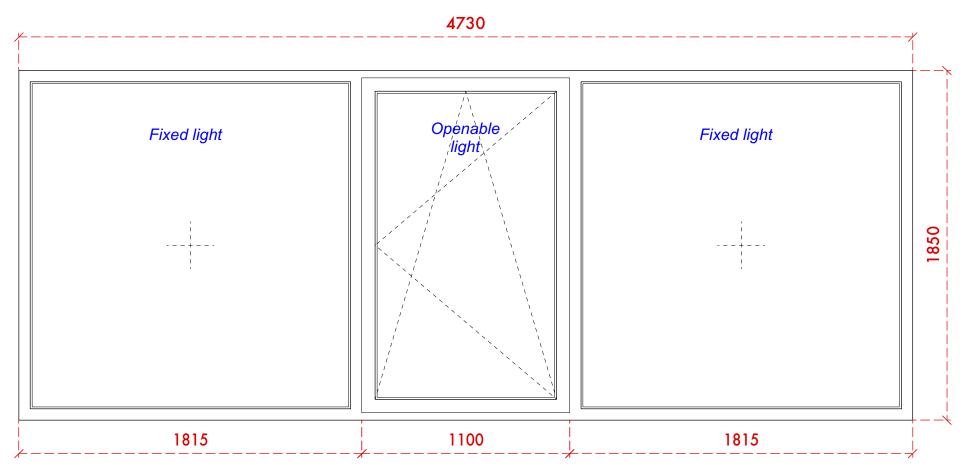

An openable light is introduced into each window. It would be both hinged and tilt opening to achieve good ventilation and has been designed to balance the elevation - see below and drawing 7155-05 Rev B.
