● Comments:

John,

I refer to the recent planning consent.

Attached are photos of the sample bricks and roof tiles which are the closest match available. The existing bricks vary from orange to red so we might need to mix the two up; both sourced from lbstock. As regards the roof tiles, these are on site so you can inspect them although I suggest that if you do intend to visit you should do so next week. There are 3 roof tiles in the photo. The one on the left is an existing left over unweathered and bleached out. The one in the middle is our preference.

Also attached are details of garage doors. Patterns 1 and 7 are acceptable. In the alternative, we can have an exact pattern fabricated to match the other doors. This panel would be mounted on a retractable metal frame as well, and painted. My drawing SK12042017 illustrates this.

Regards,

Peter
