Good morning James,

Not sure if you remember but we spoke a few weeks ago about some planning issues with trees at Bedford Square.

Another garden that I manage to the rear of Southampton Row lost a tree late last week – a Hawthorn likely outweighed by ivy in the crown. The site is being cleared by our arboricultural contractors today and it struck me that I had better let you know before you receive an erroneous message about us felling without due permission.

I've attached some pictures for your records. I'll also try and call you later to speak about this and another issue I have if you don't mind.

Thanks,

Tom.
