Andy Heyne

Director
BEng (Hons) DIS CEng MIStructE
Chartered 2000

Education: University of Loughborough

Andy has over 20 years' experience as a London-based structural engineer, working on a diverse range of projects with the UK's leading architects and clients.

Andy started his career at Alan Baxter & Associates, before moving in 1997 to Price & Myers where he worked there for over 10 years and became an associate in 2002, and was head of the Quality Assurance system, Technical Standards Group and Timber Technology.

Andy considers his best attribute to be his strong technical skills, having successfully delivered award-winning projects using an expansive array of structural materials and responses, and where both appropriate and beneficial is always keen to innovate by incorporating new materials, technologies and ideas.

His approach has a strong collaborative emphasis, believing that successful buildings depend upon close integration across all disciplines, which in turn necessitate excellent communication skills and a thorough understanding of all aspects of building design.

Neil Cameron

Associate
BEng (Hons) CEng MIStructE
Chartered 2011

Education: University of Brighton

After graduating from University, Neil joined Martin Stockley Associates where he stayed for 9 years. Whilst at MSA Neil was responsible for the design of a wide range of projects including; Park Hill, Sheffield with Hawkins Brown and Studio Egret West – The adaption and refurbishment of the largest listed structure in Europe delivering 300 homes, which was shortlisted for the Stirling prize in 2013; CIAC, Middlehaven with FAT and Devereux Architects – A new build residential building as part of the Allsop masterplan for Middlehaven delivering 70 apartments; 62-63 Pall Mall, London with MJP – A complex façade retention scheme delivering a six storey office building in reinforced concrete with a new two storey basement between three historically significant listed buildings.

In 2013 Neil joined Heyne Tillett Steel and is currently working on a number of projects including; Thorney Court, London with Sheppard Robson Architects – a £30M adaption and extension of an existing mansion block hotel in RBKC; Cleveland Street, London with Squire and Partners – A £30M new build mixed used development in Westminster and the £7M adaption and extension of an art-deco private residential house in Westminster.
