S96A NON-MATERIAL AMENDMENT APPLICATION

Dear Mr McClue

Changes to the internal floor-plans appear to use 'excess' hallways to increase unit size. This results in a dangerous reduction in hallway space, particularly within the tower. Have London Fire Brigade been consulted on this change? In a tower designed with only one stairwell, reducing the hall space still further increases the problems of an evacuation. This is a material change and particularly concerning given the recent tragedy at Grenfell Tower.

KInd regards
