Dear David,

I have been informed of some modifications to the Hall School building plans, and that a new consultation has opened. Unfortunately I have not received any emails or letters regarding changes, but from the details on your website it appears that the modifications are minor. In any case, I refer to my previous objections lodged in a letter sent to you by email on 11 January 2017. The substance of my previous detailed comments still stands, and I submit them to you again.

I should also point out that I have not received any communications from either the Hall School or Camden Council in relation to the plans, or any changes to them.

Please could you acknowledge receipt of this email.

Yours sincerely,

Mazyar
