| 2017/4239/P | Elena Maurer | 123 king henrys road flat 5 | 12/11/2017 20:04:33 | OBJ | I am writing to object to the erection of a roof extension at 3rd floor to 9 terraced houses on King Henrys Road. I believe that going ahead with the construction of a third floor in a total of 9 houses will change the aspect of the neighbourhood and might make easier for other neighbours to do the same, which will affect the community, making house prices higher, and driving people out of the community. I beg that the council revise this application and think about the consequences both aesthetically and for the community when making the decision. This houses are a few meters away from a beautiful conservation area that we want to keep intact. Best regards, Elena Maurer |
| 2017/4239/P | Mark Rothwell-Brooks | 139 King Henrys Road | 08/11/2017 10:07:07 | OBJ | Sirs, I object to the planning application regarding 24-32 Elliot Square. Whilst I have a degree of sympathy with the overall lack of housing within the country as a whole, granting permissions for an additional floor on the houses on the north side of King Henrys Road would, in my mind, set a precedence for all the houses on the North side to be granted the same. This would be highly undesirable. There are plenty of locations within London that resemble scenes akin to Blade Runner. One of the principal reasons I personally decided to live on King Henrys Road was to appreciate the leafy disposition the location finds itself in, and, having finished the day in the city to get away from hi-rise looking buildings and the heaving masses. We are thankful of the location being an oasis of tranquility in such a such a busy city. For this reason, I would respectfully ask that you deny the application on the grounds that it would diminish the very thing that makes it attractive to live here in the first place. Mark Rothwell-Brooks |

| 2017/4239/P | Teo Lasarte | 123 King Henry's Road Flat 5 | 09/11/2017 21:39:44 | OBJLETT ER | I am writing to object to this development. My reasons for objecting to this construction are the following: 1) it completely goes against the character of the neighborhood. These two storey rows of uniform, white houses along King Henry's Road have created a unique atmosphere in London. The architecture is highly unique and blends in very well with the residential part just south of it and the Chalcott towers directly to the North in Adelaide Road. 2) I understand that there is a lack of housing in London but this development does absolutely nothing to improve the situation, as it adding rooms to what is already relatively spacious housing. In my opinion, the driver behind this development is simply about increasing property values. I urge the planning commission in Camden to prioritize the needs and character of the neighborhood. King Henry's Road is a relatively quiet street in a busy part of the city. I implore the planning commission to maintain this tranquility and to protect the unique aesthetics of this part of the neighborhood. Best, Teo |
