Dear Sir or Madam

I am writing to object to the proposed buildings on Gower Gardens Reservoir why must everywhere be covered in concrete the wild life on the reservoir is diverse four types of bat swallows a multitude of spiders etc etc these creatures have lived quite happily there since 1874, West Hampstead is about two square miles in the last five years practically all green space has been built on hundreds of flats built but very few exceptional housing residences, I am now in my dotage & I would not want to live in an over expensive development on top of a 4 in 1 hill as the above mentioned site is, with all its slope and transport links at the bottom, please leave someone for the rest of the creatures we have to live their lives, they are as entitled to live on this planet as the rest of us

Yours sincerely
