

Dear Ms Walsh.

I have viewed most of the objections and although I could rely on those as part of my objection, I prefer to raise others.

My First .. Is the protection of the wildlife that has naturally been allowed to build up over the years and now is a permanent home for a wide range of species. They too, need homes.

Wildlife is just as important as other life !

In particular, it has been widely documented for some time, this land is home to "Red Listed" birds. The link below shows how this is calculated and the importance of preserving/saving any species population under this category.

Birds of Conservation Concern 4: the Red List for Birds ...

Birds of Conservation Concern 4: the Red List for Birds was published in December 2015. Commonly referred to as the UK Red List for birds, this is the fourth review ...

My Second .. Is the failing of the developer to fully inform immediate residents of the public consultation event, one on a weekday evening and one on a weekend day. These include the 2 blocks either side of the entrance to the land, who clearly by their location could be regarded as vital to be informed.

My direct contact with the developer's office by phone on this resulted in me being told it was the fault of the company hired to circulate this information. Respectfully, I stated it is the obligation of the developer to ensure all required procedures to be carried out .. Who knows how many properties were not informed ?

As a result of this error, on behalf of the developer, an employee hand delivered letters to some properties acknowledging this mistake. I am sure the developer will only be too happy to be open and transparent on this matter, after all many residents could confirm they were not informed of the required public consultation as stated.
