

Hi Charles,

Please find below my comments regarding the St Giles in the Field Churchyard Floodlighting system.

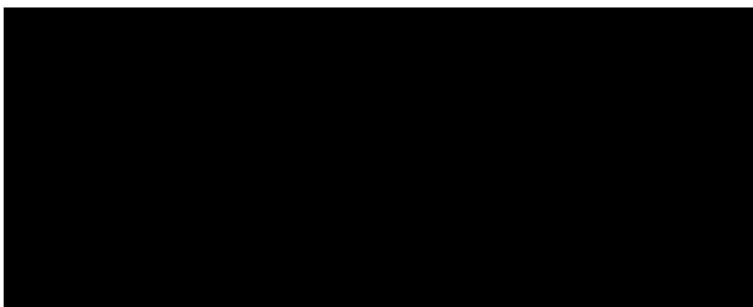

I made my comments via the Camden Website.

I'll let David Ferris know that he needs to re-submit his objection to the lighting system.

Anne Garrigues and Edwina MacPherson are also residents who raised objections to the floodlighting scheme.

When you're doing your visit, feel free to give me a call and I can show you the view from our living rooms and how light from a spotlight system will create glare.

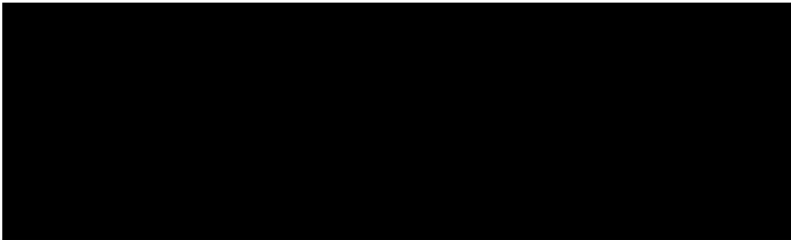

best regards

I am a resident of a residential building adjoining the St Giles Church. I appreciate the church, tower and spire are beautiful monuments.

However the proposed floodlighting system creates too much glare and light pollution for myself and neighbours in the building.

- 1) The church tower and spire overlooks our living rooms and the proposed lighting scheme shines excessive light into our homes
- 2) When the light contractors were testing the light schemes, the resulting effect was very bright
- 3) Any overseas visitors who stay temporarily will be unable to sleep in the lounge room due to the light.
- 4) The lights are planned to be turned on each and every day, until very late at night
- 5) I note your statement in the Design and Access Statement (page 1), "the sense of enclosure has been made more acute by the growing height of the surrounding buildings and the planting of large trees on and within the boundaries". I agree the large and ever-growing invasive species Tree of Heaven has an adverse effect on the surrounding environment, including causing damage to the Churchyard Boundary Wall. Thus we support the removal of this toxic invasive species.
- 6) I appreciate the safety and security benefits that the ground lighting lanterns provide and do not object to them only. However I do object to the other lighting systems.
