Looking down from the 5th (top) floor to show

- a) The position of the duct relative to ICM3 property boundaries;
- b) The capture of the duct within the lightwell;
- c) The pigeon net screen which effectively divides the lightwell from top to bottom in half;
- d) The comparative colour of duct and tiled wall of the lightwell illustrating the sympathetic aesthetics by comparison to the stark contrast of black drainage works against the same surface.
