

Context Details: Picture of the Site

Proposed building location

View of the Site

- We're building the house at the back of our garden
- As you can see our neighbors already have an existing garden structure in place of a comparable size and location (left side)
- The construct you can see in the back is a shed (made of plastic) and will be removed

View from the site to the existing building

- This site is a significant distance away from the existing building
- The total site will be less than 50% of our garden
