2018/1602/P	Meta Zimmeck	33 Queen Alexandra Mansions Judd Street	10/04/2018 14:45:07	COMMNT	I think that the proposed changes to the Judd Street Open Space (formerly Bramber Green) are generally good and are likely on the whole to improve the quality of the space and the number and quality/behaviour of users. My main concern is to ensure that cyclists are excluded from having access. The proposed improvements - e.g. second gate and more extensive footpaths may very well encourage cyclists to take short cuts (as, for example, in every available pedestrian passage - town hall passage for example). This makes it dangerous for other users, especially children. I have used the open space in the past, mainly for eating lunch and sitting in the sun, but recently I have been put off by some of the other users and their dogs. I hope that these improvements make it a much nicer place to be.
