2017/4551/P	Debbie Radcliffe for Bloomsbury CAAC	15/06/2018 13:47:17	OBJ	Although this building is noticeably in need of attention and appropriate renovation, and we welcome the removal of the mansard extension, the Advisory Committee does not support the way in which the structure of the rear elevation is being altered to create a two storey townhouse at the entrance to the Colonnade. The mews is an important historic street within the Bloomsbury Conservation Area and its unique character will be affected by the intrusion of a two storey house, attached to the rear facade of no 11-12 Grenville Street. The eastern end of the Colonnade currently has one storey structures on either side of the entrance. This balance will be upset if a two storey house is built on the north side. The rear aspect of the building is as important as the facade on Grenville Street and we do not consider the proposal will adequately preserve or enhance the conversation area. An imaginatively designed one storey structure to the rear in this location would be much more in keeping with the character of the Grenville Street entrance to the Colonnade. It is likely that the extra storey will also impact on the residential amenity of the neighbouring flats in Downing Court due to the additional storey creating a loss of light. The proposed demolition of part of an existing heritage building will be detrimental to the historic integrity of the building and its intrinsic historic character will be destroyed by a change of scale and design.
