No Need to Consult GLAAS

Thank you for your consultation dated 29 June 2018.

The Greater London Archaeological Advisory Service (GLAAS) provides archaeological advice to boroughs in accordance with the National Planning Policy

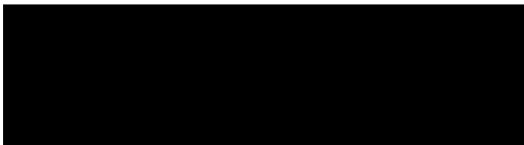

Framework and GLAAS Charter.

On the basis of the information provided, we do not consider that it is necessary for this application to be notified under the GLAAS Charter, the criteria for consultation from which are attached.

If you consider that this application does fall within one of the relevant criteria, or if there are other reasons for seeking the advice of GLAAS, we would be grateful if you could explain your request. Please do not hesitate to telephone me if you would like to discuss this application or the notification procedures in general.

Please note that this response relates solely to archaeological considerations. If necessary, Historic England's Development Management or Historic Places teams should be consulted separately regarding statutory matters.

Yours sincerely

Rosie Clements

HELPING US TO HELP YOU: HISTORIC ENGLAND GLAAS CRITERIA FOR CONSULTATION

These criteria should be used by local planning authorities, or planning applicants, as a guide to identify which sites should be referred to GLAAS for archaeological advice at pre-application stage; which sites should have archaeological statements to validate them at application; and which sites require expert advice before and after determination of an application:

- a site in an archaeological priority area (defined in UDP/LDF) where proposed works could affect archaeological remains below ground level,

- all sites on or near a Scheduled Monument,
- all sites of 0.4 hectares or larger not in a priority area,
- all applications for a scoping opinion for an Environmental Impact
- all applications where supported by an archaeological desk-based assessment as part of a design and access statement,
- buildings, parks or gardens of historic interest for which demolition or significant alteration is proposed,
- all submissions to discharge archaeological or recording conditions,
- appeals
