My enquiry is	FAO: Ben Farrant RE 2018/1457/P; 5 Honeybourne Road London NW6 1HH Dear Mr Farrant, Having reviewed revised plans submitted since the initial comments were submitted we can see that the 1st floor window in Bedroom 2 has been replaced with a door/window leading to a balcony. Assuming all or part of this is made of glass we believe it would still provide direct line of sight into [REDACTED] whose boundaries extend further into the access way than that of the proposed property. Therefore the angle of the proposed 1st floor door/window in Bedroom 2 would still be overlooking [REDACTED] as explained in the initial objection submitted. Secondly, Having seen the letter sent by the owner of 5 Honeybourne Road dated 5th June questioning whether any other properties have right of access over the access way leading from Fawley Road, we would like to respond by stating that [REDACTED] has been used as a private residence [REDACTED] with sole access having been via this access way thus establishing right of access via common law to our understanding. I would assume the same applies for properties 210a to 22a West End Lane. Kind regards, eMail [REDACTED]
