Subject: Application No: 2018/5327/T Rejection request on the base of the fact the one putting the application is not the owner.

Dear Planning Officers,

[REDACTED] I can wee an application to cut a tree in our garden put through via a person that is not the owner or shared owner of our property? I want to object this application on the basis that the person lied about ownership. Is this even legal! Of course since the tree is in my garden and in front of my window I would like to understand what right this person has to put an application without consulting me or any other owner of 42 Redington Road. The tree is populated by a lot of wildlife animals. We have different birds for different seasons. Squirrel come to feast on the cherries in Springtime. it offers a beautiful and spectacular show when the blossom is on. I am speechless on how somebody who I don't even know can easily put up a request on somebody else property?

What can I do?

Best,

Moira Zanatta [REDACTED]
