2015/7013/P	Gerry Wong	10/12/2018 11:45:50	PETITNSUP P	Kings Cross has been seeing regeneration in the area as a whole. It is my opinion that the KXMC building is worthy of being redeveloped into a more modern church building. It will benefit not only its worshipping congregation but also to the local community as a whole. The new building will have much more usable spaces to help with more church outreach /charity projects in the future . Besides that, the existing building is now in need of a lot of urgent repairs especially internally as well as the external which is looking aged. It would also lessen considerably if not altogether the noise/ sound emitting from within the church during worshipping days which would otherwise may intrude on others outside the building. As i believe the building would still retain the style it was built upon originally. So it would not therefore be an eyesore to its surrounding . The benefits of a newly redeveloped church building has plenty of scope for reaching out to others in the future then it would otherwise might. I sincerely hope the project to renovate the building be approved and given the green light based on these factors i have highlighted.
2015/7013/P	Mei Tsui	10/12/2018 16:37:37	COMMNT	I have been in this church for over 20 years. We attended the Sunday services and also participated in their activities which were believed good for all the attendants e.g. fellowships for the youths and young working adults. The youth fellowship gives those universities students studying in London a health and warm gathering place, they come to our church with meal provided so that they can stay together to support each other and do not need to wandering in the street or find elsewhere to kill the time. Our church members love the society and so we have provide meal and shelter for rough street sleepers one day per week during winter time. We donate food to food bank, we joined running 10km for fundraising for the church. Same as other families, my children were attending Sunday school in this church since they were in nursery time and now they are grown up already. They continue to stay in this church and participate in many services aspects . We love this church and would like the church have a good development so that many other people can enjoy the same experience as us. Without a new building, the infants do not have enough space for them to move and learn bibles, their mummy do not have enough space to look after them ; the elderly do not have a safer and easier access premises for them.
2015/7013/P	Benson Lai	11/12/2018 08:49:35	SUPPRT	I believe it will be beneficial for the works of Kings Cross Methodist Church and also to the community it serves for the renovation works to take place. As it gives a fresh new appearance which will liven up the area it is located. But also be able to have improved facilities for the community to use.
