Charles,

Telecommunication equipment can create significant issues and impact on the streetscape and the visual amenity of an area. We have been dealing with (and successfully opposing) two such cases located on 3 and 4 storey buildings in Kentish Town Rd. We are aware of the planning issues these installations can create.

In this application, from a purely planning perspective, it seems to us that the potential negative impact on the visual amenity of the immediate area should be limited. The size and location of the equipment does not seem to be out of scale with the host building. Consequently we do not think it appropriate to register an objection on grounds of visual amenity in this case.

Separately, and assuming you are content for the application to proceed, can you ensure that measures are implemented to stop any noise emitted from the equipment that could cause a nuisance to residential occupiers in the immediate vicinity (the flats beneath the roof level)? I am thinking about the summer months when windows are open.

Kind regards

Paul Seviour
