

Application No:	Consultees Name:	Received:	Comment:	Response:
2019/1997/P	Coral Temple	17/05/2019 13:49:17	OBJNOT	This building has been a landmark and jewel of the neighbourhood for nearly 100 years. There is absolutely no justification for the demolition and rebuilding of this wall. It is a well documented fact locally, London and nationwide that the SPIRITUALIST NATIONAL UNION tricked the congregation into leaving the site by pretending that they were going to refurbish and reopen it as a Spiritualist Temple. The rear boundary is a ancient wall, in keeping with the surrounding buildings and atmosphere, and any adjustment would destroy the character of the area. There are ancient iron gates which I understand have had enforcement decide MUST be kept. It is absolutely out of step with the area to now decide to rebuild the boundary wall which has tastefully edged the rear of this quaint and historically important Temple for almost a century. Also I and my neighbours would like a lot more details of the "minor building works". Trees were illegally felled by the SNU or Spiritualist National Union. I understand that only one of the felled trees were allowed as it was diseased, but to date I am unclear as to why the 2 huge mature trees that were destroyed illegally have not been replaced. I only hope now that the replanting of all 3 trees is a major consideration in these works. I would also like to be informed as to whether the SNU were suitably charged for this atrocious act. When one walks down the mews to the rear of the Temple the view to this building is specific and especially uplifting. This view should not be compromised. So much building work and modernisation is occurring all over camden, to sacrifice any view of this historical landmark would violate the authenticity of the area, which is already under threat from the enormous increase in footfall that this project will create. TOTAL OBJECTION .

2019/1997/P	Coral Temple	17/05/2019 13:49:23	OBJNOT	This building has been a landmark and jewel of the neighbourhood for nearly 100 years. There is absolutely no justification for the demolition and rebuilding of this wall. It is a well documented fact locally, London and nationwide that the SPIRITUALIST NATIONAL UNION tricked the congregation into leaving the site by pretending that they were going to refurbish and reopen it as a Spiritualist Temple. The rear boundary is a ancient wall, in keeping with the surrounding buildings and atmosphere, and any adjustment would destroy the character of the area. There are ancient iron gates which I understand have had enforcement decide MUST be kept. It is absolutely out of step with the area to now decide to rebuild the boundary wall which has tastefully edged the rear of this quaint and historically important Temple for almost a century. Also I and my neighbours would like a lot more details of the "minor building works". Trees were illegally felled by the SNU or Spiritualist National Union. I understand that only one of the felled trees were allowed as it was diseased, but to date I am unclear as to why the 2 huge mature trees that were destroyed illegally have not been replaced. I only hope now that the replanting of all 3 trees is a major consideration in these works. I would also like to be informed as to whether the SNU were suitably charged for this atrocious act. When one walks down the mews to the rear of the Temple the view to this building is specific and especially uplifting. This view should not be compromised. So much building work and modernisation is occurring all over camden, to sacrifice any view of this historical landmark would violate the authenticity of the area, which is already under threat from the enormous increase in footfall that this project will create. TOTAL OBJECTION .
-------------	--------------	---------------------	--------	---

Application No:	Consultees Name:	Received:	Comment:	Response:
2019/1997/P	Coral Temple	17/05/2019 13:51:26	OBJNOT	This building has been a landmark and jewel of the neighbourhood for nearly 100 years. There is absolutely no justification for the demolition and rebuilding of this wall. It is a well documented fact locally, London and nationwide that the SPIRITUALIST NATIONAL UNION tricked the congregation into leaving the site by pretending that they were going to refurbish and reopen it as a Spiritualist Temple. The rear boundary is an ancient wall, in keeping with the surrounding buildings and atmosphere, and any adjustment would destroy the character of the area. There are ancient iron gates which I understand have had enforcement decide MUST be kept. It is absolutely out of step with the area to now decide to rebuild the boundary wall which has tastefully edged the rear of this quaint and historically important Temple for almost a century. Also I and my neighbours would like a lot more details of the "minor building works". Trees were illegally felled by the SNU or Spiritualist National Union. I understand that only one of the felled trees were allowed as it was diseased, but to date I am unclear as to why the 2 huge mature trees that were destroyed illegally have not been replaced. I only hope now that the replanting of all 3 trees is a major consideration in these works. I would also like to be informed as to whether the SNU were suitably charged for this atrocious act. When one walks down the mews to the rear of the Temple the view to this building is specific and especially uplifting. This view should not be compromised. So much building work and modernisation is occurring all over camden, to sacrifice any view of this historical landmark would violate the authenticity of the area, which is already under threat from the enormous increase in footfall that this project will create. TOTAL OBJECTION .
2019/1997/P	Coral Temple	17/05/2019 13:49:07	OBJNOT	This building has been a landmark and jewel of the neighbourhood for nearly 100 years. There is absolutely no justification for the demolition and rebuilding of this wall. It is a well documented fact locally, London and nationwide that the SPIRITUALIST NATIONAL UNION tricked the congregation into leaving the site by pretending that they were going to refurbish and reopen it as a Spiritualist Temple. The rear boundary is an ancient wall, in keeping with the surrounding buildings and atmosphere, and any adjustment would destroy the character of the area. There are ancient iron gates which I understand have had enforcement decide MUST be kept. It is absolutely out of step with the area to now decide to rebuild the boundary wall which has tastefully edged the rear of this quaint and historically important Temple for almost a century. Also I and my neighbours would like a lot more details of the "minor building works". Trees were illegally felled by the SNU or Spiritualist National Union. I understand that only one of the felled trees were allowed as it was diseased, but to date I am unclear as to why the 2 huge mature trees that were destroyed illegally have not been replaced. I only hope now that the replanting of all 3 trees is a major consideration in these works. I would also like to be informed as to whether the SNU were suitably charged for this atrocious act. When one walks down the mews to the rear of the Temple the view to this building is specific and especially uplifting. This view should not be compromised. So much building work and modernisation is occurring all over camden, to sacrifice any view of this historical landmark would violate the authenticity of the area, which is already under threat from the enormous increase in footfall that this project will create. TOTAL OBJECTION .

Application No:	Consultees Name:	Received:	Comment:	Response:
2019/1997/P	Coral Temple	17/05/2019 13:49:12	OBJNOT	This building has been a landmark and jewel of the neighbourhood for nearly 100 years. There is absolutely no justification for the demolition and rebuilding of this wall. It is a well documented fact locally, London and nationwide that the SPIRITUALIST NATIONAL UNION tricked the congregation into leaving the site by pretending that they were going to refurbish and reopen it as a Spiritualist Temple. The rear boundary is a ancient wall, in keeping with the surrounding buildings and atmosphere, and any adjustment would destroy the character of the area. There are ancient iron gates which I understand have had enforcement decide MUST be kept. It is absolutely out of step with the area to now decide to rebuild the boundary wall which has tastefully edged the rear of this quaint and historically important Temple for almost a century. Also I and my neighbours would like a lot more details of the "minor building works". Trees were illegally felled by the SNU or Spiritualist National Union. I understand that only one of the felled trees were allowed as it was diseased, but to date I am unclear as to why the 2 huge mature trees that were destroyed illegally have not been replaced. I only hope now that the replanting of all 3 trees is a major consideration in these works. I would also like to be informed as to whether the SNU were suitably charged for this atrocious act. When one walks down the mews to the rear of the Temple the view to this building is specific and especially uplifting. This view should not be compromised. So much building work and modernisation is occurring all over camden, to sacrifice any view of this historical landmark would violate the authenticity of the area, which is already under threat from the enormous increase in footfall that this project will create. TOTAL OBJECTION .
