| 2019/1775/P            | L. Sturge-Moore         | 21/05/2019 21:54:17 | COMMNT          | A poster about the above was stuck on a tree in our road. I saw it by chance, and searching I discovered that another planning permission had been granted for an extension in practically the whole of the garden (2018/1263/P) which we had no knowledge of. At present the area is a tip so I suppose the proposed building might be a slight improvement. We should have been informed in a more personalised manner. Our main objection is the noise and disturbance of building work. Also the disappearance of a garden when green spaces are so needed. I trust that the building will indeed serve as an office and not a kitchen or a restaurant (smells/noise, etc). As for extending upwards by one floor, reluctantly I can have no objection seeing the rest of the building work being undertaken. |
