2019/2034/P	jesper groenvold	06/06/2019 13:19:56	OBJ	One is reminded of a song by Kemahl called a never ending story as we are now looking at yet another application from Mr Cowan. This application is generally less invasive to the community, but will still result in a loss of light for me. I think this application should only be passed with some serious conditions. A traffic management plan that prevents any entry of lorries into the mews. A binding undertaking that Mr Cowan will recognize, that he is giving up his parking space and is not entitled to a space within the mews. A suitable end date to all of his never building activities. And a binding undertaking not to further overdevelop his site. This should include a final undertaking not to build a basement. Mr Cowan has a substantial credibility issue with his fellow mews residents, so only legally binding undertakings are worthwhile.
