While we are in principle opposed to the installation of air-conditioning, on environmental grounds, we have always acknowledged that there may be special circumstances ζ such as medical reasons ζ where it is necessary. We accept that the need to provide a protected teaching space here is such a special circumstance.2. We note the location of the external plant associated with the air-conditioning, and advise that it is not harmful to the special significance of the Listed Building.3. We note that the cabin is a reversible installation, and have no objection to it.4. We are anxious that the scheme is a success. We concerned about access for the children using the ASD facility. We have understood that they may need modified access routes ζ avoiding corners, for example. Would further modifications to the interior of the building be required? Would children be brought to school by special transport, and how would that be accommodated? Richard Simpson FSA Chair
