Subject: Opposition to planning application 2019/2375/P

Dear Mr Fowler

I am writing to strongly oppose Abacus school's application on the old Hampstead Police Station site.

Firstly Hampstead has three state schools with more than enough places to accommodate children in the Hampstead area. Abacus will compromise these well established schools by adding more places to an already over supplied area, which will have a negative effect on those schools through no fault of their own.

Secondly the school will contribute to the already high levels of traffic and the pollution levels which are over the governments sad limits. Residents of hampstead are already dealing with intolerable amount of traffic generated by people dropping their children off to the many private schools in the area. This school will not be for children of Hampstead yet the effects will borne by the people who live here.

Lastly, it seems obscene to add to the pollution, school places and traffic in area which needs less not more of these things.

Please do not grant planning permission for this school as it will have a detrimental effect on an already saturated area.

Thank you for reading.

Yours sincerely
