A year or so ago I objected to the planning for a terrace at the back 2nd floor level because of the overlooking of my garden and direct views in to my bed, bath and living rooms. The planning was refused on the grounds of mutual overlooking. I am still directly overlooked by the top floor windows and have to draw all blinds for privacy in my top bedrooms. I imagine that this application is to enable a terrace on the roof, which will also directly overlook my property and family rooms. In addition the wooden balustrade has already been sited on the roof even though the consultation is still in process. Please contact me ASAP.
