2019/3959/P	Anna Parkinson	22/09/2019 16:39:22	COMMNT	This business has been operating illegally as a restaurant for some time without planning permission as has been evident to local residents from the smells and the noise. The business operates in a densely populated residential area which means that the smells from cooking penetrate local homes from 9.30 am onwards and the noise from diners rises up from the rear of the building and lasts well into the night, making it impossible to open rear windows. I would like to object to the proposal on the following grounds: lack of space to the rear of the building to accomodate appropriate kitchen and extractor fans; the noise generated by diners and potentially by the fans themselves, though this would presumably reduce the smells; the predominance of existing restaurants in the street, changed from a previous balance with retail; additional restaurants potentially contribute to pest problems in the area.
