Dear Ms English:

Here is a recent article which talks about Northeastern "extending its global reach" and making it clear that it has acquired NCH.

"The university opened its first campus outside of the United States in Toronto in 2016, and its first outside of North America last January with the acquisition of the New College of the Humanities in London."

Interestingly, there is also reference to "Northeastern faced criticism for falling more than four million dollars short in voluntary payments in lieu of property taxes requested by the city of Boston due to NU's non-profit status.

If you can add this e-mail to my letter, I would be most grateful,

Kind regards,
