

Re application for the above reference, I am writing to object.

No matter how well designed, the addition will look like an "add on" to the present harmonious appearance of this row of listed cottages.

This cottages have no foundations and move as one - I feel that anything that disturbs this flow may be unwise.

