Subject: Objection and problem

Re 137 Levita House

I have received a notice that you want to cage in my flat. If you put what you refer to as a security gate it will ruin my home. I have owned and lived there for 33 years, in 33 years my flat has never been broken into or had a security issue. There is no justification whatsoever to put bars up and a gate. I currently rent the flat but have been considering moving back. [REDACTED] if you put the cage gate in I will be unable to live in my flat. I am horrified by the idea of a gate so close to my front door making me feel I am in prison or it's a crack den!. I want to object in the strongest terms. Have I a right to take this to court if you do not listen to my objection?

Yours sincerely
Michele Knight
