Attention Mr Ben Farrant,

I live at no [REDACTED] FrognaI and go past FrognaI Gardens several times a day.

Whilst some of the houses on FrognaI Gardens may not necessarily be totally in keeping with the general character of Hampstead, the proposal under the application above, is off the radar and surely cannot be considered acceptable in this conservation area.

There are no houses in Hampstead that have used green tiles as their facade. This house would simply look completely out of place within the surrounding red-brick or white rendered houses.

I strongly disapprove and object to this proposal.

Yours sincerely,
