

notes:

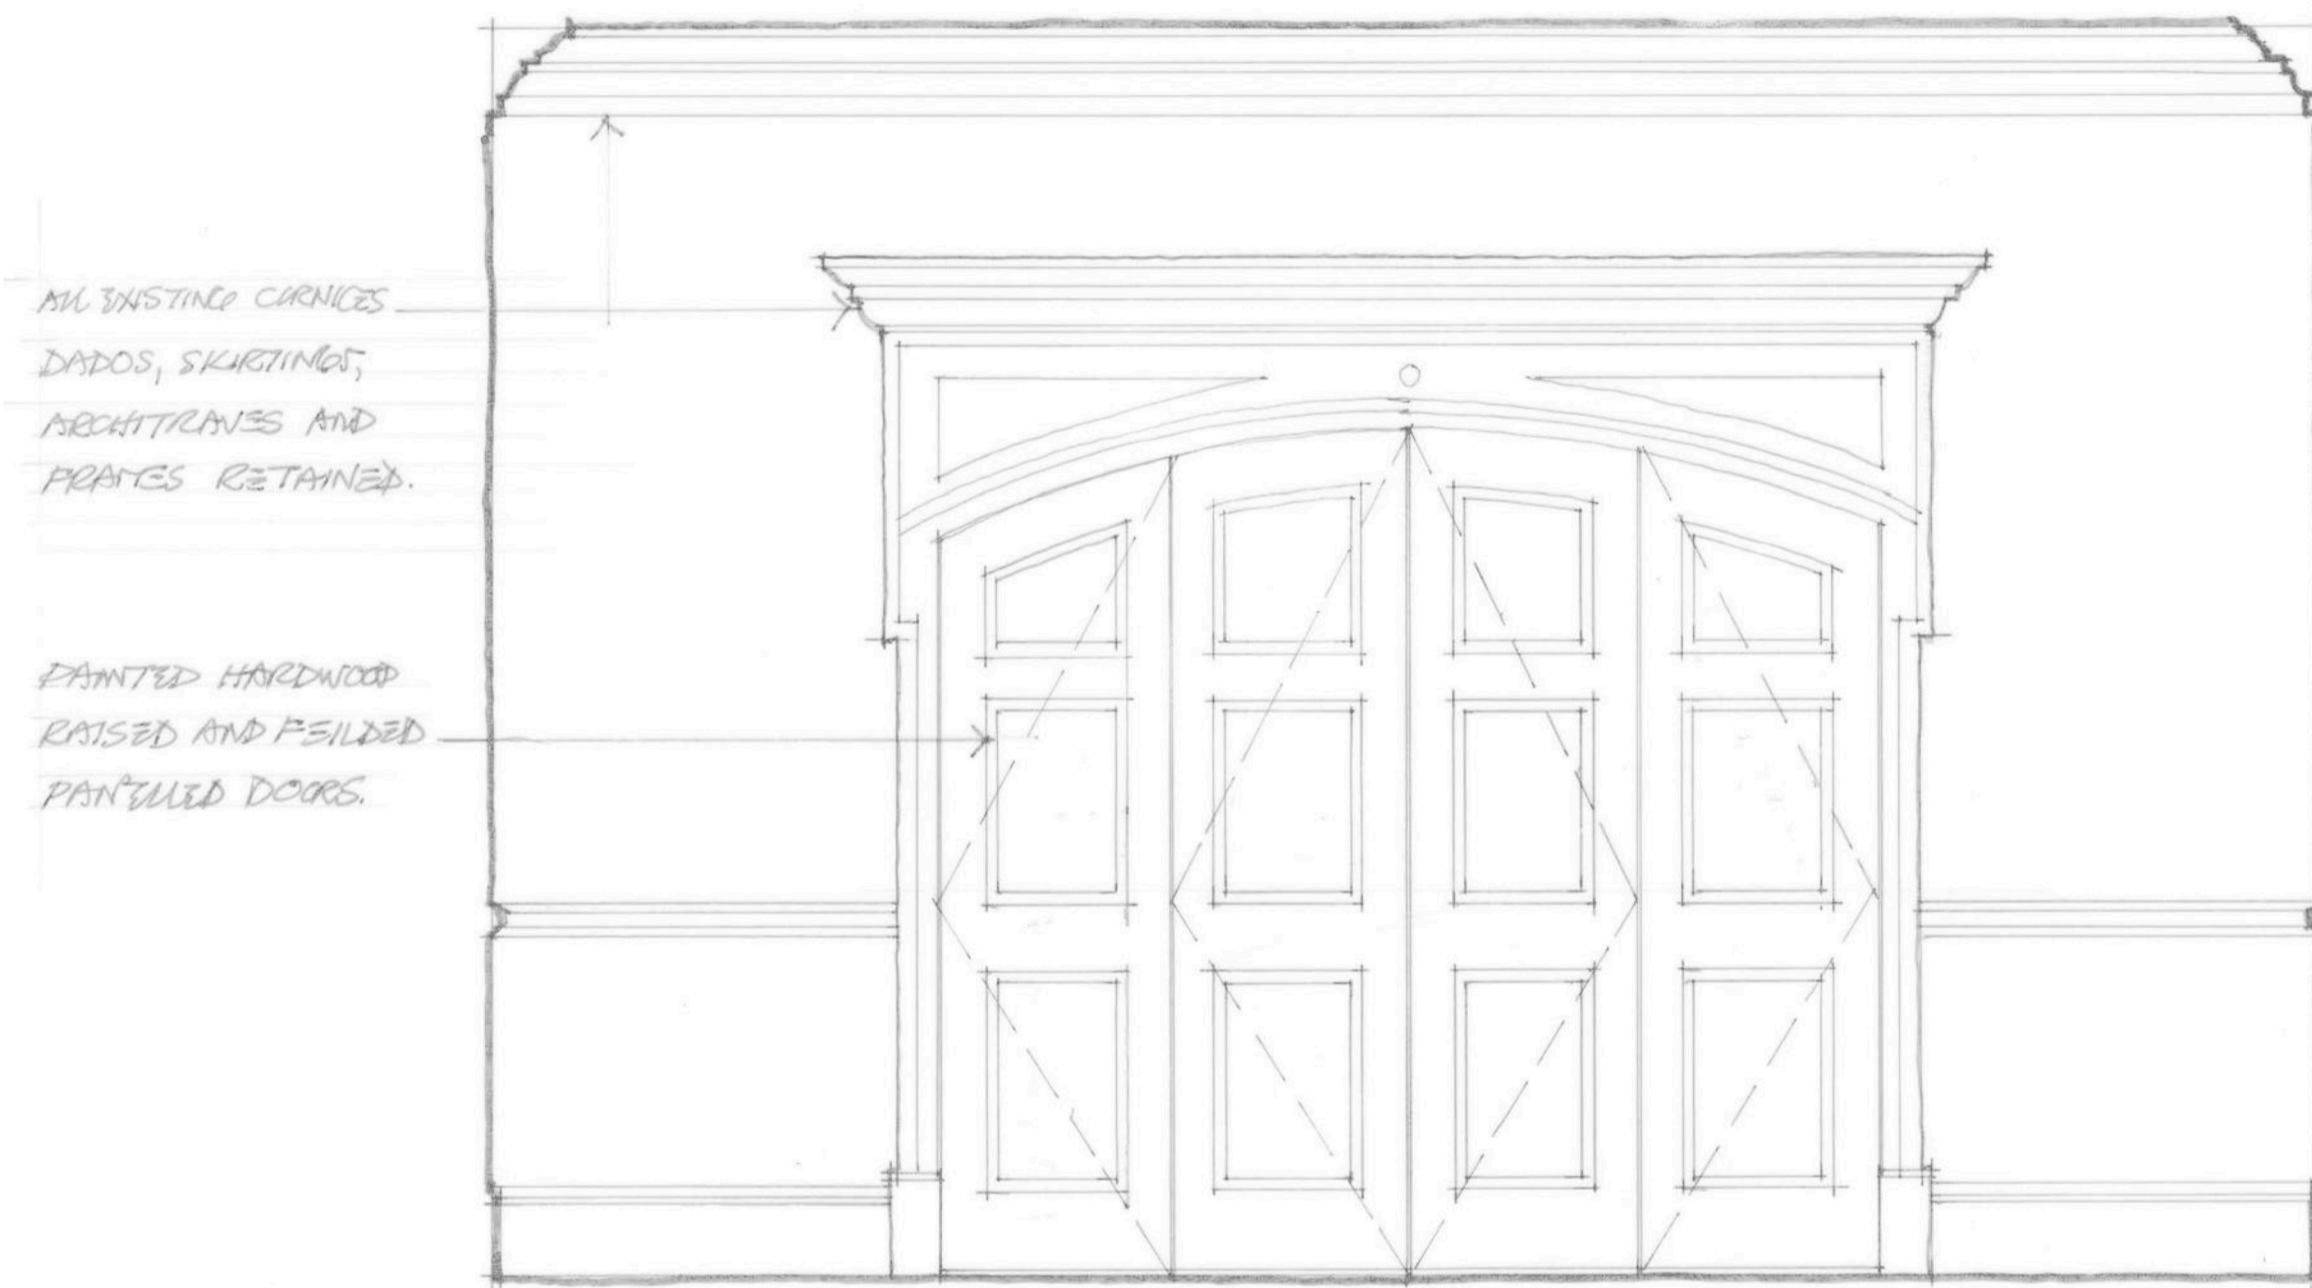

there are no discernible original doors within the buildings; it is presumed that the NHS replaced them with fire doors during their possession of the building.

their fire doors have a unusual 5 panelled planted bead detail which we might assume to be their interpretation of the original replaced doors.

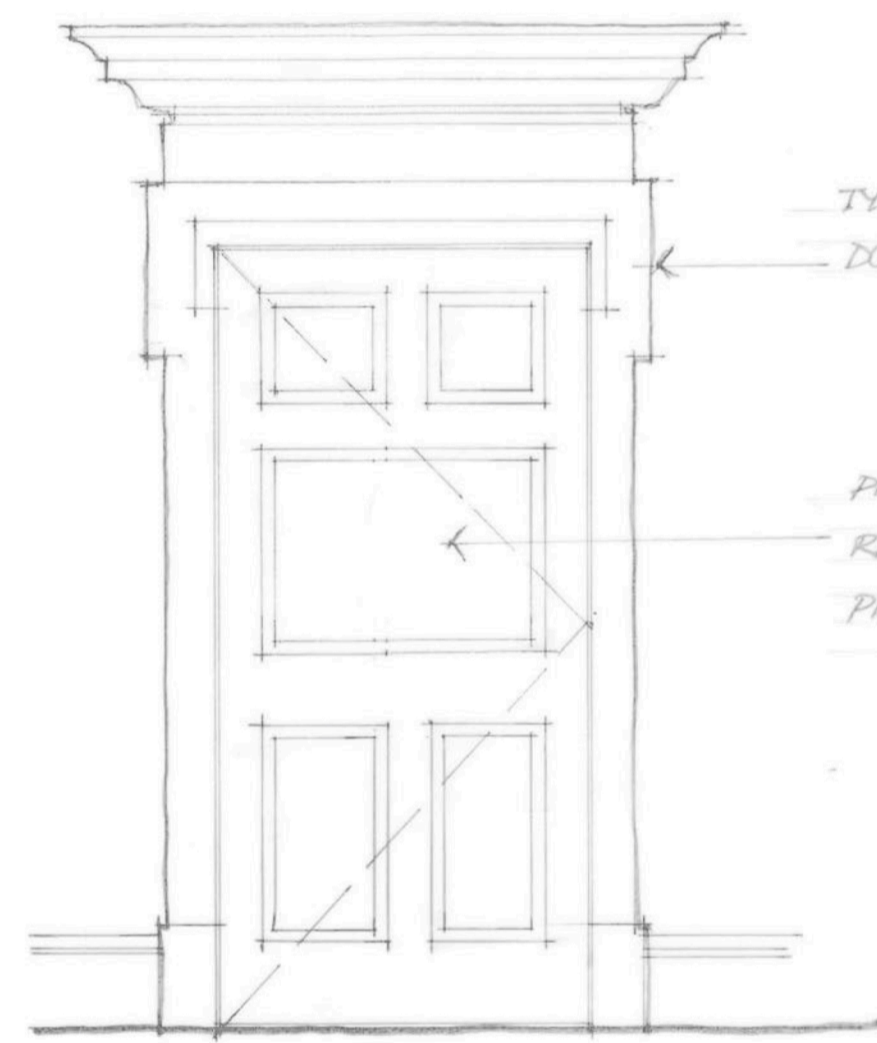

we have adopted this logic in our design. they are of a pattern widely used in arts and crafts houses by Webb and others.

doors will be painted, of hardwood and softwood construction as appropriate to location, with raised and fielded panel detail.
