Dear Laura,

Further to my email below with copy letter commenting on this application our client has been contacted by the applicant who has raised concern that one aspect of the letter may not have been completely clear. This is the section where we comment upon the boundary wall and proposed rear extension.

So there is no misunderstanding at all, our clients are keen that the existing boundary wall is maintained. The applicant has helpfully confirmed to our client that this is indeed the case i.e. the proposed new extension will be built utilising the wall which will be retained thereby minimising disruption.

Our clients fully support this and so as previously stated raise no objection.

Kind regards

Paul
